Outline Syllabus

Self evaluation and experiential learning.

Identification of suitable workplace opportunities.

The nature of WBL.

The management of learning through workplace opportunities.

Describing and reflecting on learning.

Identification of specific individual learning that has taken place and its vocational applicability to the student and the placement organization.

Topics on maritime industry relevant to student placement.

Learning Activities

This module is introduced through tutorials during the initial University phase. Students are required to complete a total of 240 hours of work based learning, based upon a learning agreement between student, University and the placement organisation.

Notes

This module is completed in the work environment. The specific tasks and projects will be based upon the work that the student is doing and will apply knowledge gained in the University. The tasks and projects are expected to be represented by a combination of assignments, reports, and projects, designed to encourage awareness and critical evaluation. Tasks and projects will be agreed between student and tutor. Each student will be assigned a University tutor
