Module Overview

Additional Information

This module will introduce students to the Public Health England agenda of prevention in relation to drug and alcohol misuse. It will primarily focus on a UK perspective but with recourse to international perspectives as appropriate. The module aims to explore how alcohol and substance misuse can be prevented at three stages: Primary Prevention, Secondary Prevention and Tertiary Prevention. The module considers the various responses offered by education, criminal justice and substance misuse services towards prevention. Students are required to develop a poster campaign that aims to prevent substance misuse. You will present your poster in a group setting offering a project rationale that includes an evaluation of the role of educational approaches in preventing substance misuse starting.
