Aims

To demonstrate the principles and techniques involved in planning and implementing effective marketing communications strategies.

Learning Outcomes

After completing the module the student should be able to:

- 1 Demonstrate an understanding of the IMC tools, and the methods to employ these for optimum benefits.
- 2 Design an advertising and promotional plan.
- 3 Critically evaluate & apply integrated marketing communications theory.

Learning Outcomes of Assessments

The assessment item list is assessed via the learning outcomes listed:

Presentation	1	2
Examination	3

Outline Syllabus

Communications and advertising theory.

The implications of consumer behaviour for marketing communications.

Creativity in advertising: appeals & execution styles.

Copywriting.

Media selection.

Advertising Research.

Sales promotion.

Direct and Interactive Marketing.

PR.

On-line Advertising.

Learning Activities

Lectures, tutorials, video, case studies, group exercises, self-assessment questions.

Formative feedback will be provided to students via a major peer assessment exercise, as well as interactive tutorials and self-assessment exercises provided on Blackboard, from which understanding of the material can be gauged, and areas of weakness addressed.

The presentation will have a practical, decision-making focus. The examination will test the student's understanding of marketing communications theory and its application to practical situations.

Notes

A study of advertising and marketing communications in today's environment, with emphasis on the need for an integrated approach.
