

Summary Information

Module Code	6107CRIM
Formal Module Title	Police, Power and Social Order
Owning School	Justice Studies
Career	Undergraduate
Credits	20
Academic level	FHEQ Level 6
Grading Schema	40

Teaching Responsibility

LJMU Schools involved in Delivery
Justice Studies

Learning Methods

Learning Method Type	Hours
Lecture	22
Online	3
Tutorial	4
Workshop	11

Module Offering(s)

Display Name	Location	Start Month	Duration Number Duration Unit
JAN-MTP	MTP	January	12 Weeks

Aims and Outcomes

Aims	1. To critically consider police power and its relationship to ideas of social and political order and disorder.2. To explore the origins of police, considering the development, expansion and transformation of policing in domestic, colonial and international settings.3. To critically examine the policing of a range of marginalized, minority and dissenting/dissident populations.
------	----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

After completing the module the student should be able to:

Learning Outcomes

Code	Number	Description
MLO1	1	Critically assess the origins of police and consider the development, expansion and transformation of policing.
MLO2	2	Critically evaluate processes that legitimise and de-legitimise police and policing
MLO3	3	Critically explore the challenges and controversies surrounding policing in the 21st century.

Module Content

Outline Syllabus	Topics included in this module include, but are not limited to:• Theorizing Police Power: the state, law and order• The Origins of Police • Policing Empire • Policing and Urban Order • Policing Immigration• 'Race' and Policing• Gender and Policing• Policing Dissent• Commodification and export of policing• Policing and democracy
Module Overview	In this module you will critically consider police power and its relationship to ideas of social and political order and disorder. You will explore the origins of police, considering the development of the police project in both domestic, colonial and international settings and in doing so critically examine the relationship between police, state power and the question of order. The module considers historical and contemporary policing through a series of case study issues.
Additional Information	This module seeks to critically consider police power and its relationship to ideas of social and political order and disorder. It explores the origins of police, considering the development of the police project in both domestic, colonial and international settings and in doing so critically examines the relationship between police, state power and the question of order. The module considers historical and contemporary policing through a series of case study issues.

Assessments

Assignment Category	Assessment Name	Weight	Exam/Test Length (hours)	Module Learning Outcome Mapping
Essay	Essay (2,500 words)	50	0	MLO1
Exam	Exam (Take Home Exam)	50	0	MLO2, MLO3

Module Contacts

Module Leader

Contact Name	Applies to all offerings	Offerings
Will Jackson	Yes	N/A

Partner Module Team

Contact Name	Applies to all offerings	Offerings
--------------	--------------------------	-----------