Notes

The EMCS Dissertation is one of the core directed modules from which students must choose for their Level 6 Portfolio. The module requires students to undertake a sustained piece of academic analysis from Media and Cultural Studies and or English and present this in a proper academic form. This allows students to achieve a thorough understanding of theoretical and methodological issues relevant to their chosen subject of study. Students must be able to demonstrate they have the ability to carry out a sustained piece of research on an appropriate topic and it may be the case that proposals are turned down.
