Aims and Outcomes

Aims	This module represents the skills-in-practice component of the course and aims to lay the foundations for effective and ethical supervisory practice. Students will be supported to reflect on supervisory procedural issues such as: clinical responsibility, contracting, risk assessment, and professional record keeping. Students will be given opportunities to reflect on interpersonal and intrapersonal processes in supervision and to critically evaluate their own interventions.

Learning Outcomes

After completing the module the student should be able to:

Code	Description
MLO1	Demonstrate an understanding of the process of supervision
MLO2	Demonstrate reflective practitioner skills
MLO3	Use critical evaluation skills to analyse the process of supervision

Module Content

Outline Syllabus

The supervisor in context• Building the supervisory relationship• Good practice in supervision• Enabling the supervisee to make use of supervision• Assessment in supervision• Ensuring standards in supervision• Working with a group in supervision• Working with the supervisee's counselling model• Working sensitively within the supervisory relationship

Module Overview

Additional Information

The focus of this module is on developing a capacity to supervise a psychotherapy session, not on the content of the session itself. For the avoidance of unnecessary risk to third parties, psychotherapy sessions will be simulated by means of role plays in which other students on the course take the places of therapists and clients. Students who successfully complete this module as a stand-alone module will be eligible for a University transcript of credit
